COMPLIANCE WITH THE DASMA THERMAL PERFORMANCE PROGRAM

The DASMA Thermal Performance Verification (TPV) Program certifies and verifies the thermal performance ratings of sectional door products using third-party testing and inspection. The U-factor testing standard for garage doors, ANSI/DASMA 105, provides repeatable and reproducible results. U-factor tests an installed assembly to assign a value that accounts for section joints and perimeter seal.

Models in this program will be identified by this icon

A photograph of a house featuring a stone gable and wood-grain garage doors. The house has a grey shingled roof and a stone gable. The garage doors are made of dark wood with horizontal panels and small windows at the top. The stone gable is made of irregular, light-colored stones. The house is surrounded by a concrete driveway and a lawn with fallen leaves. A large black planter with red flowers is on the right side of the driveway. A small black lantern-style light fixture is mounted on the stone wall to the right of the garage door. The overall scene is a professional product shot for a garage door company.
